

Grey shading: dark phase. Each fly takes small forward and backward steps; the forward bias appears only as the steps accumulate over days.